Summary

I consider myself a very creative person; thus, I endeavor in a diversity of activities. Art has always been my calling and as I've grown up I have just expanded my horizons regarding to it and applied it accordingly. Throughout the years, I've grown my skillset in photography, social media management and graphic design. I have had the honor of learning under very talented people who have taught me a lot of what I know. Now, I have decided to pursue my own career in freelancing social media management, photography and graphic design.
